Integrated Science for Sustainable Development Goal 3 Nima Rezaei, 2024-12-11 This contributed volume offers an interdisciplinary view on several topics related to the Sustainable Development Goal 3 (SDG 3). These targets mainly involve reducing maternal mortality, ending preventable deaths under five years of age, fighting communicable diseases (e.g., tuberculosis, HIV, malaria, hepatitis B) and neglected tropical diseases, reducing mortality from non-communicable diseases (e.g., cardiovascular disease, cancer, diabetes, chronic respiratory disease) and suicide, and promoting mental health, prevention and treatment of substance abuse, reducing road injuries and deaths, universal access to sexual and reproductive care, family planning and education, achieving universal health coverage, reducing illnesses and deaths from hazardous chemicals and pollution, implementation of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, supporting research, development, and universal access to affordable vaccines and medicines, increasing health financing, and supporting health workforce in developing countries, improving early warning systems for global health risks.

Measuring Attachment Everett Waters, Brian E. Vaughn, Harriet Salat, 2021-05-10 This volume provides an in-depth examination of traditional and emerging measures of attachment behavior and representations from infancy to adulthood. Leading authorities share their expertise on the Strange Situation, the Attachment Q-set, Ainsworth's Maternal Sensitivity Scales, the Adult Attachment Interview, the Attachment Script Assessments, and the Adult Attachment Projective Picture System, as well as analogue and experimental methods. The book clarifies the conceptual and empirical underpinnings of the various measures and shows how they fit into a coherent developmental framework. Offering detailed discussions of key constructs such as attachment security, the secure base phenomenon, disorganization, and narrative structure, this is a valuable resource for both researchers and practitioners who use attachment assessments in their work.

Attachment Assessment in treatments, prevention and intervention programs Silvia Salcuni, 2015-05-13 Attachment theory, assessment, and research offers a broad, far-reaching view of human functioning, and it can enrich a psychologist's understanding of subjects and their relational adjustment, both in clinical and non-clinical settings. Ongoing research in attachment has led to a number of individual treatments and prevention and intervention programs. The assessment of an individual's attachment organization can play a crucial role in explaining and previewing the unfolding treatment, the relational adjustments or concerns, and the psychological well-being. We hope to receive empirical papers that give evidence for the usefulness of attachment assessment in both clinical e g patients with Eating Disorder or Axis II psychotherapy patients or not clinical population e g Adoptive and or foster families or couples Mother infant assessment in prevention field These papers should include methodological issues and information about the participants the methods used to assess attachment the process of scorer training and the availability of the manual used to obtain inter scorer reliability Case studies may be of interest to the extent that they demonstrate the value of a systematic approach to attachment material A range of theoretical perspectives is welcome as well presentation of new emergent tools on attachment Because Frontiers in Psychology is an international journal each empirical paper should comment on the international implications of the findings and discuss its cross cultural use Such comments may include for example its linguistic specificity its robustness in translation and the cross cultural generalizability of the constructs and behaviors of the measure and its usual correlates Cross cultural generalizability is not however a requirement
