Crying for Our Elders Kristen E. Cheney, 2017-03-05 The HIV AIDS epidemic in Africa has defined the childhoods of an entire generation Over the past twenty years international NGOs and charities have devoted immense attention to the millions of African children orphaned by the disease But in Crying for Our Elders anthropologist Kristen E Cheney argues that these humanitarian groups have misread the orphan crisis She explains how the global humanitarian focus on orphanhood often elides the social and political circumstances that actually present the greatest adversity to vulnerable children in effect deepening the crisis and thereby affecting children's lives as irrevocably as HIV AIDS itself Through ethnographic fieldwork and collaborative research with children in Uganda Cheney traces how the best interest principle that governs children's rights can stigmatize orphans and leave children in the post antiretroviral era even more vulnerable to exploitation She details the dramatic effects this has on traditional family support and child protection and stresses child empowerment over pity Crying for Our Elders advances current discussions on humanitarianism children's studies orphanhood and kinship By exploring the unique experience of AIDS orphanhood through the eyes of children caregivers and policymakers Cheney shows that despite the extreme challenges of growing up in the era of HIV AIDS the post ARV generation still holds out hope for the future Caring for Your Aging Parents Raeann Berman, Bernard H Shulman, 2009-05-01 The fastest growing segment of our population is people 85 and older and many of them are now cared for by their children This comforting and poignant guide bridges the gap between elderly parents and the adult children who care for them with trusted answers to questions most asked by caregivers in this challenging situation Covering health finances living arrangements communication and emotional struggles Caring for Your Aging Parents offers caring professional advice for the increasingly difficult decisions that caregivers face including Making the right choice between home care and assisted living Coping with memory loss and dementia Expressing care and concern without sending mixed messages Counteracting negative behavior Encouraging other family members to help with caregiving Managing stress and taking care of yourself With a wealth of resources and reassuring answers Caring for Your Aging Parents helps caregivers foster a loving cooperative relationship with their parents in this new chapter of their life It s a terrific book Newsday Useful easy to read and most informative Dr Daniel Thursz president National Council of the Aging Full of information Washington Post One of the best books on eldercare Ken Dychtwald Age Wave Resources in Education ,1990
